

ARE “GOD’S CHOSEN PEOPLE” ALWAYS RIGHT?...

by Juozas Ivanauskas
deputy editor of Laisvas laikraštis

Zionism is the fiercest branch of Jewish nationalists-racists, that nowadays does not hide its roots. Anti-Semitism was born with Hitler. Still, its roots lie deep in Jewish history. The Talmud itself revealed the plans of the Jews far and wide: to enslave goys, Christians. When the Talmud was kept as a special secret, Jews could easily penetrate into the most profitable spheres of industry and trade. But the schemes of the Jews gradually became known. Their aggressiveness was unmasked by society itself.

The reaction against the power of the Jews was not planned by isolated ideologues, but came as resistance from a society exploited. The Talmud reveals its reactionary nature, which encouraged world Jewish hegemony. There are no doubts that world Jews are being ruled from a well-organized center that draws its ideology from the Talmud.

The main goal of the State of Israel is probably to coordinate the actions of all the world’s Jews. So the prosperity of Israel depends on the support of the world’s Jews. The fight between Arabs and Jews shows that Jews are not inclined to live peacefully with the Arabs, but the number of Arabs is the sword of Damocles to the State of Israel. Certainly, while Arab resistance is based on local diversions, it is not dangerous to the Jews. But the consciousness of Arabs is growing and can become lethal to the Jewish people. Jews will encounter a dilemma: either to denounce the statements of the Talmud in public and to condemn it, or... to expect destruction as a hindrance to peace in the world.

(Liudas Dambrauskas, Thoughts of a Retiring Individual. Diaries, Vilnius: Gaires, 2005, pp. 112 – 114)

This week the BNS news agency announced that the Lithuanian archaeologists’ interrupted research in the presumed Jewish cemetery in central Vilnius will probably not be renewed because the Jewish representatives who supervised the research were not satisfied with the methods of the archaeological investigations. As it is known, the Jewish religion does not allow the remains of a buried Jew to be disturbed. Lithuanian archaeologists, who found some fragments of human and animal bones, could not continue working, because their supervisors were against it.

It is clear that the “supervisors,” of the Jewish faith, who came to Lithuania from the “promised land,” decided to act capriciously with our state institutions and archaeologists one more time and to mock the spineless authorities that are not able to defend the interests and prestige of a sovereign and independent state before the world.

The Department of Cultural Heritage, which announced the interruption of the work, officially announced that archaeologists found “shatters of ceramics and glass, pieces of metal, and isolated fragments of human and animal bones that were lying in non-anatomical positions” at a depth of 20 – 30 centimeters.

Specialists do not comment if the remains found are Jewish: that must be further investigated, because, on the one hand, the remains were found not in “anatomical position” and not at the usual depth of human graves; and, on the other hand, there used to be not only a Jewish, but also a Christian cemetery on the bank of the Neris.

The exclusive “Mindaugas” apartment house on the banks of the Neris became almost a world scale problem, because Jews with sticks, who came from abroad, confirmed somebody’s version that this apartment block was built on the former Jewish cemetery. But the most interesting thing is that the Jewish cemetery, the borders of which are now being debated, functioned from the 16th century onward in the center of Vilnius. It was closed in the 19th century and the Jewish community received financial compensation from the Russian tsarist administration for it.

And what does the financial compensation, paid by tsarist Russia to the 19th century Jews, mean to 21st century Jews? It seems that absolutely nothing! Apparently, “God’s Chosen People” does not sell its customs, holy beliefs, and traditions for any treasures in the world and will not allow anybody to touch the remains of a Jew that was buried a few centuries ago or recently.

Beside the desecration of the alleged Jewish burial place in the very center of Vilnius, one more scandal, a flared-up international syndrome, is shaking Lithuania: that is the issue of the restitution of Jewish property which is supposed to become question number 1 for the newly elected Seimas.

Again the same or other Jews, coming from abroad or living here. Kaunas’ “Litvak” A. Vinokuras and S. Alperavičius, chairman of the Lithuanian Jewish Community, although they belong to the same Jewish religion, are arguing with each other and trying to prove their exclusive right to the remaining real estate in luxurious quarters of Lithuanian cities, in the old towns of Vilnius and Kaunas. Lithuanian Jews, American Jews, Israeli Jews – for years they have all been fighting for that property which allegedly belonged to Jews, like wolves hungry for the prey, and reproaching Lithuanians who seem to be eternally guilty and indebted for something. After calling us “the nation of Jew-shooters,” the reactionary Jews do not feel guilty and most likely nobody will even force them to apologize publicly for this insult to the Lithuanian nation. What is more, they further demand return of the property which allegedly belonged to them, they demand compensations, they demand remunerations for moral injury, they demand... According to S. Alperavičius, “Lithuania is the only country in the EU, which hasn’t done it yet. It causes concern not only to the Jewish Community of Lithuania, but also to American and European Jewish organizations. It has a very negative effect.”

Certainly, it “has a very negative effect,” because such sad-faced announcements of S. Alperavičius, chairman of the Jewish Community of Lithuania, shown on TV, have resulted in heated discussions and discontent in civic society. It is understandable that a real battle between commentators started in our press and in the virtual reality of the Internet and some of them, hurt by such statements and the uncurbed self-will of Jews in Lithuania, started to express their anger:

2008-08-04 10:54 aukse

What property? And what are they going to do with it? All the time it was not enough for the Jews. There is a feeling as if all the world was indebted to him, only because he is a Jew. The Jewish – Mason lodge is still very strong and influential. And our creeps are only making apologies to it and almost by force agree to return the property that belonged to somebody somewhere. After all, the one who might have owned that property, passed away a long time ago.

2008-08-04 10:28 to Teisingumas

Real estate was given back to all Lithuanian citizens according to law, there certainly was no ethnic segregation. You want to say, that property was returned to everybody, except the Jews? Don't instigate national hatred!

Here the whole thing is about restitution of property which belonged to public organizations. I think that it must be returned to the Jews according to the same principle as the property of ateitininkai, šauliai, 1) Catholic youth and 2) paramilitary organizations and other organizations. A special law is not necessary. And why involve the world Jewish lobbyists? The Jewish communities of Lithuania should be the only candidates to receive the remaining Jewish property.

It is evident now that the highest Lithuanian officials, who have many times compromised themselves, violated the constitution, told lies, became involved in corruption, hid their shameful past linked with KGB or even CIA organizations, and are unable to resist "bearded men with hats carrying sticks" who run around the center of the capital and make new demands and complaints to our state.

So the people of Lithuania, who haven't yet lost their national pride and dignity, are doomed to wait patiently for "brighter days" when we at last elect a fair government with principles. And until it happens in the Land of Mary, most people can only have patience or blindly and obediently believe that "God's Chosen People" is always right and only and just because it is CHOSEN!

"Let your sons draw their strength from the past!.."

[a quote from the Lithuanian national anthem]

After touching this very sensitive theme of Jews, which has a tangible influence to our internal and foreign policies, I would like to make some additions and quote to the readers of "Laisvas laikraštis" some elements of the thought of the late Liudas Dambrauskas, a resister, former political prisoner and essayist (taken from his diary, Thoughts of a Retiring Individual, published in Vilnius by Gaires publishing house in 2005).

Especially now, perhaps, in these unclear times of changes, it would be useful for Lithuanians to have a look backwards and remember that not only among Jews, but also in our own nation there were venerable heroes, who were not afraid to tell the truth and sacrifice the best years of their lives for the freedom and independence of Lithuania!

Tuesday, 9 September 1997

I have read a little book called "A Christian in the Jewish Talmud, or Secret Rabbinic Lore about Christianity." It was published in 1912. The material was collected by father J. B. Pranaitis, master of theology, professor of the Jewish language [Hebrew] at the Imperial Catholic Spiritual Academy in St. Petersburg.

Certainly, one can consider this book to be old-fashioned and not important anymore, but can we believe that the Jewish Talmud has changed so much that we can pay no attention whatsoever to the statements of the old Talmud? Christianity for the Jews is allegedly worse than paganism. In some passages Christians are equaled to dangerous heretics or even worse — to animals in human shape. According to the Talmud, the devil is executing his schemes on earth using Christians...

It is clear that the Talmud is not the main law of the Jews nowadays. Many Jews do not follow it, and others have changed the regulations of the Talmud by other interpretations, that are on purpose hidden. Zionism is the fiercest branch of Jewish nationalists-racists, that nowadays does not hide its roots either. Antisemitism was born with Hitler. Its roots are deep in Jewish history. The Talmud itself revealed the plans of the Jews far and wide: to enslave goys, Christians. When the Talmud was kept as a special secret, Jews used to penetrate into most profitable spheres of industry and trade easily. The schemes of the Jews gradually became known. Their aggressiveness was unmasked by society itself.

The reaction against the power of the Jews was not planned by isolated ideologues, but came as resistance from a society exploited. The Talmud reveals its reactionary nature, which encouraged world Jewish hegemony. There are no doubts that world Jews are being ruled from a well-organized center that draws its ideology from the Talmud.

The main goal of the State of Israel is probably to coordinate the actions of all the world's Jews. So the prosperity of Israel depends on the support of the world's Jews. The fight between Arabs and Jews shows that Jews are not inclined to live peacefully with the Arabs, but the number of Arabs is the sword of Damocles to the State of Israel. Certainly, while Arab resistance is based on local diversions, it is not dangerous to the Jews. But the consciousness of Arabs is growing and can become lethal to the Jewish people. Jews will encounter a dilemma: either to denounce the statements of the Talmud in public and to condemn it, or... to expect destruction as a hindrance to peace in the world.

Wednesday, 17 September 1997

I was recently shocked by the 200 year commemoration of the death of the Jewish rabbi Gaon [sic]. The present government devalues itself by putting so much emphasis on the personality of the Gaon, who did nothing worthy, nothing of merit for the Lithuanian people. Our diplomatic leaders compromised themselves totally when they turned a cultural event into a pompously political one. It seems that such humiliation of our own nation, such, I'd say, penetration without using soap [a rude saying, means "being subservient"]... was a complete fiasco. Israel, through the lips of its ambassador, instead of expressing thanks for such subservience from our authorities, publicly called Lithuanians a nation of Jew-shooters. It is not clear what the goal of this statement was, because the Jews knew very well that it would not help Jewish-Lithuanian relations. It seems that they instigate antisemitism on purpose. Fortunately, there are not so many Jews in Lithuania. If there were more than two hundred thousand of them, they would hardly let Lithuanians open their mouths.

Hitler's "Mein Kampf" and the Jewish Talmud are similar in content. Hitler was probably well acquainted with the statements of the Talmud when he wrote about the basis of Nazi racism. While Jews led the fight against Christians in various forms, Hitler used the same methods and suggestions against the Jewish people. Racism and Zionism are equally dangerous to humanity and their roots are very dangerous because, if the political climate changes, they can easily have new sprouts.

(Liudas Dambrauskas, Thoughts of a Retiring Individual. Diaries, pp. 112 – 114)