Here, it is also the nail of the entire EU! Some kind of political council or commission also exists in the Lithuanian parliament...

So what is that democracy today? We can already say that not everything is right with the Constitution in Lithuania, and that it's even worse with adherence to it. The government steals from the nation, after annulling laws that prohibit them, so that land stealers, asset parcelers and recipients of EU aid are unpunishable. To penalize Parliament for these laws is impossible, because there is no collective responsibility. It is also impossible to vote them out, because only Parliamentary parties receive aid from the state, while the others are destroyed.

So this is what the framers of the US Constitution had in mind when they spoke out severely against democracy!

Well, until you try, you won't understand... According to today's attainments, democracy in Lithuania is equality without commitment, without duties, without levers delivering assets to the leaders at the expense of the impoverishment of the nation [sic]. Democracy is open contempt of the individual, the nation and its spirituality and the absolute rule of the "golden calf."

How it resembles beautified totalitarianism! Here's why Lithuanian Communist Party gen. sec. A. M. Brazauskas so eagerly took up teaching the discipline of democracy!!

Let's try to discuss the similarities and differences between democracy and partocracy.

Today the US and Russia play first fiddle the specter of terrorism--the so-called aspiration of nations to stay free and independent. In Lithuania there was an attempt to blow something up, too, at Brazuole...

In second place is radicalism. In Sovietia that was the "perestroika" dreamt up by the KGB, thanks to which communists could become legitimate capitalists. In the USA that's the announcement of the "axis of evil" and the "democratization" of Muslim countries. By bombardment. How it resembles the crusades... While in Lithuania, it is the march of tramps, the slogans of the National Progress Party and accomplishments dividing the Right. And once the work is accomplished, they scatter to other parties...

In third place is extremism whose greatest goal is to discredit structures wielding authority. Thus there is the attempt in the world to discredit the Church and national liberation movements. And in Lithuania to divide civil organizations, Sajudis, and to create alternatives. And we already have the results: Sajudis was turned into a social organization instead of a political one. The Union of Political Prisoners and Exiles has been divided, the democratic and green parties have been abolished. That's why alternative political powers such as Yedinstvo, reformed into the Russian Union, and the Polish Electoral Action [Party], successfully participate in politics and carry out their plans: closing Lithuanian schools, changing Lithuanian orthography and expanding the privileges of the occupiers at the expense of the impoverishment of the Lithuanian nation.

Extremism is, to put it simply, the placement of one's disease on a healthy head. That how in the USA the greatest propaganda has been developed that all wars undertaken (in Korea, Vietnam, Iraq and other Islamic countries) were for defending US independence!!! Although the geographical placement of those countries--overseas--immediately raises suspicion. And compared to the development of civilization it is an obvious deception. But Russia also proclaims that the Chechen nation (with a population of less than one million) is a grave danger to a state in which 300 million people live, and that's the end of the story.

We also see such an obvious political lie about allegedly existing extremism in Lithuania. To wit, blackening [the name of] Lithuanians before the entire world, calling them Nazis and Jew-shooters. Because the calm Lithuanian nation does not have these sins, actually quite the opposite-- probably it was the only one that didn't have any joint governance structures with the fascist occupiers and refused to take part in the formation of SS units as well as saved Jews, examples of Lithuanian extremism had to be (and were) falsified [counterfeited]. These are the sham cases against [national guard militia] volunteers M. Murza and A. Petrusevicius for illicit possession of weapons and ammunition!

Meanwhile the Constitution and the Law on the Foundations of National Security provide for the possibility of universal resistance by the nation, not to mention volunteers and inventors of a Lithuanian weapon. But there must be the blemish of extremism on tiny but heroic Lithuania, and investigative case materials are being collected. As also with Jew-shooting.

Lithuania harbored, defended and saved Jews from "pogroms," persecution and murder for 600 years. Nope, she must be made into a Jew-shooter.

Has anyone heard the German nation called Jew-shooter? After all, the final solution to the Jewish question was made in Germany. After all, it was fascist Germany who did the holocaust not just in their own countries [sic] but also in occupied countries. But no one calls Germans Jew-shooters. But they blacken the Lithuanians, whereas they should and are obligated to thank and make known the unprecedented tolerance of the Lithuanian nation all 600 years. To repay with the same goodness. But... it happened in the opposite manner --Jews planned and executed the Lithuanian genocide, and now they also charge us with their own sins. Because there are only Communists and KGB in Lithuanian government, i.e. collaborators with the structures created by the Zionists, the perpetrators of Lithuanian genocide - Nachman Dushansky and members of his gang - lived peacefully in Israel, died honorably and was buried ceremoniously... While the demand of the Lithuanian Prosecutor to hand over the criminals is quietly ignored.

Meanwhile, Demands by social organizations of all stripes and persuasions (for example, the Simon Wiesenthal Center and others) to prosecute Lithuanian security personnel (Lileikis, Dailide and others) are faithfully carried out by Lithuanian law enforcement.

It appears the demands of the Zionists are supreme over the international law of equality of nations. Well, when there are collaborators in the government of states, the rights of the nations are trampled upon, and only Zionistic aspirations dominate.

It's not clear through which channels Zuroff's little men trudge through Lithuania's archives and find doubtful candidates. But they make "true Jew-shooters" of them. Meanwhile the real enemies of Jews, A. J. Klimaitis, who carried out the German program, and economics minister Zemkalnis who with a single signature herded all Jews into the ghettos, live peacefully with Wiesenthal and no one has hunted them for 50 years.

Thus Lithuanians in their own country aren't safe from the political manipulations of the Zionists and the clearly qualified "action by specialists." The detection of A. Pocius and A. Valionis as KGB reservists doesn't merely imply mutual cooperation between Russian special services and the democratic world, it also encourages establishing who among us in Lithuania "works" for both sides. The opening of the KGB archives would greatly facilitate this. But they have been taken away to Moscow, which doesn't have any plans to betray its spies. All the more since they have established themselves so comfortably and warmly in Lithuania: in the post of foreign minister, in the seat of the security chief and elsewhere.

But we do have the partial list of KGB reserve officers disclosed by J. S. Stasiskis (227 people) and using this we can figure a thing or two out. For one thing, 48.8 percent of them were Lithuanians. Establishing a correlation with 3 million residents, that's 1 reservist per 60,000 Lithuanians. The second group, Jews, [comprise] 26.8 percent. Correlating that with the 5,000 Jews living in Lithuania, that's 1 Jew reservist per 170 Jews. That's 4000 times more than Lithuanians! Likewise, Russian-speakers make up 25.1 percent of the entire list. By correlation with the 700,000 Russian-speakers living in Lithuania, that's 1 for every 2400.

God's nation is the clear dominator.

On the other hand, remembering how many citizenships and Lithuanian awards V. Adamkus awarded to ethnically Jewish KGB [agents], it becomes entirely unclear, for whom does our president work?

Let's remember Shaptaj Kalmanovich, sent out of the USA for work with the KGB and even sentenced in Israel, and KGB general Gomelski and Yakunin, not to mention the completely incomprehensible protection during the A. Pocius epopoeia.

Is our little Lithuania already finished by convicted and exiled Jewish KGB agents and reservists from all over the world?

Third in line in terms of similarities between the US and USSR is violence. In the USA that's armed gangs of gangsters and the mafia, whereas in the USSR it's divisions of "istrebityly" and "specnaz" units. In Lithuania it's strongmen, the rampage of Jewish gangs of Dekanoz-Dekanidze, and now-legendary death penalty of Dekanidze. Not to mention the Tulip and Dashkin gangs and mental patients who burn down entire villages and kill pensioners for 10 litas...

In fourth place is immigration, causing 80 percent of all crime worldwide. We see this in the Paris riots and the sudden deportation of Georgians from Moscow back to the Caucasus. We see incomprehensible discord in Lebanon in the camps of Palestinian refugees, restrictions on Mexican illegals in the US and the internment of WWII immigrants in high security camps and their rapid dispersal around the world.

In Lithuania today it's the opposite: we are becoming a country of illegal transit, and thanks to vested Western money, a point for "imprisoning" illegals. The little affairs of Pabrade are always surfacing in political life, and always in the worst possible light.... And always they are covered up by "the border Godfathers" who have created a mechanism that works better than the state's... And again the Jewish surname Grazhul pops up.

We have explained 5 links joining the US and USSR and their correspondences in Lithuania. There should be no misunderstanding left--everything has become clear. This is the destruction of states from within, executed on a global scale during peacetime and the creation of a global system which is ruled not at all by those who we elect, appoint and see. Humanity has struggled of old against such destruction.

Now would be a good time to reread The Protocols of the Elders of Zion, to compare work planned against work accomplished. The Jews needlessly protest that the Protocols are a counterfeit...

Today we are living through the process of "perestroika" developed by Andropov (Erenstein-Lieberman), executed by Gorbachev (Gaider) and continued by Putin (Sholomov) and Medvedev (Mendel). A process supported by international finance economic groupings of globalists of the world who ignore differences in party, ideology and national governance. Today we witness the destruction of states that do not submit to the Zionist (left and right) ideology and democratic order. The terrible destruction, total, without regard for accomplishments, such as the "carpet" bombing of Afghanistan, equaling World Wars I and II by numbers of bombs dropped. And this is called something other than genocide?! Isn't it obvious that Zionism, under the cover of doctrines of socialism (the left), democracy (the right) and globalism (capital), is finishing up the occupation of the planet, drowning it in poverty, the fire of war and the swamp of amoral politics?

How could we forget the threats by the Zionist Trotsky (Bronstein) to make the world kneel down and to strangle it in bloody slavery?
